

ORGANIZATION FOR TRANSFORMATIVE WORKS

What is the Organization for Transformative Works?

We are a nonprofit organization dedicated to preserving, protecting, and advocating for fan culture and fanworks.

Our projects include: legal assistance for fans; the open-source fandom wiki Fanlore.org; the academic fan journal Transformative Works and Cultures and our acafan blog, Fanhackers; the fan archive preservation project Open Doors; and the Archive of Our Own, a noncommercial fan archive named one of the 50 best websites on the internet by Time magazine in 2013.

How can I keep updated?

Follow us on twitter, tumblr, dreamwidth, livejournal, facebook, and linkedin, or check out our regular newsfeed at transformativeworks.org.

How can I get involved?

The OTW is always in need of support and volunteers! To find out more, visit transformativeworks.org, and click on the "Get Involved" menu header.

Can I contact you?

Sure! Email us at communications@transformativeworks.org.

Thank you for your interest!